Assign all of the following to group members and yourself. You will be evaluating one of the Personal Narratives supplied. These are also available on line at our web site. The group leader will be evaluating each member's performance and ability to explain the specific areas they are assigned. In addition, the group members will be evaluating the leader for his/her ability to help them and their knowledge as well. Each member's grade will be based on the group leader's evaluation. The group leader's grade will be based on an average of the group member's evaluation.

This paper must be attached to your work and all of the groups papers placed together when they are turned in. All work should be done on a separate sheet of paper. It must be readable or typed.
